

Getting to the Heart of the Matter

Co-authors Jerry D. Nuerge and Jay Link put into writing their collective wisdom of more than twenty years of working with and learning from hundreds of wealth families. They have helped affluent families honestly address the important "soft" issues, as well as the complex "hard" issues of life planning. The book includes stories of how the Family Wealth Counseling process has profoundly impacted America's wealthiest families financially, socially, emotionally and spiritually. The Family Wealth process has helped many to find the deepest level of joy, meaning, and fulfillment in life.

The book also includes a professionals' technical reference guide.
